About Your Host

I'm Jackie Alcalde Marr.

I love gathering people to learn, laugh, ponder, and grow!

That's who I am.

My career has been about helping others develop their skills and make an impact. I'm a certified leadership and life coach and an Author Accelerator-certified book coach.

My book coaching blends story craft with personal effectiveness. Writing retreats are all of that plus a community that supports your journey.

I'm so excited to welcome you to Murphys and help you make progress on your project and your writing practice!

About Murphys

Murphys is a historic gold rush town known for the colorful people who walked here in the 1850s, like Ulysses S. Grant, Black Bart, and our favorite literary star, Mark Twain.

It was a hidden gem until Frommer's highlighted it in its "Top 10 Coolest Small Towns" list and Sunset magazine touted its allure. Less than two hours from Sacramento, it's now a wine lover's paradise and boasts great restaurants, shops, and activities - all while keeping its quaint and authentic charm.

About the Venue

We'll spend our time together in two vacation homes, each with its own unique style. The homes are a 7-minute walk from each other, and each is a 10-minute walk to town.
